Almond Farmers Pleased.

Charles Karantz, in writing from Almond, where he has charge of a drug store, says that the farmers down in that section are more than pleased with their crops this year, as they have had bumper crops of nearly everything. Rye was the best that it has ever been, yielding from 20 to 35 bushels to the acre, while corn was also very good, producing about double of what it has in former years. The potato crop, however, is best of all and at the present time is at the height of the harvest. Most of the fields are averaging 200 bushels to the acre while some are as high as 350. There are on an average of 100 loads, or about 7500 bushels of potatoes hauled into Almond every day. The greatest trouble this year has been to secure help to harvest the crop. Last year Almond shipped out a little better than 300 cars and this year they expect to ship over 1000 cars.

Band to Try New Scheme.

The band will give a dance at the Amusement hall on Friday evening of this week, and they will run it a little different from the ordinary dance that has been given here in the past.

The plan will be to charge the gentlemen ten cents admission, which entitles each one to two dance tickets. After these tickets have been used up additional dance tickets will be sold at five cents each, the tickets to be collected as the dancers go onto the floor. The dancers will also be entitled to an encore.

This plan will allow anybody who wants to come in and dance only a few dances without buying a ticket for the entire evening. Ladies will be admitted free.

Unable to Attend.

The editor of the Tribune is in receipt of an urgent invitation to be present in Green Bay on the occasion of President Taft's visit to that city, which occurs in the near future. The president is going to be there for an hour and a half, and we can readily realize what a disappointment it will be to him if we are not there to assist at the welcome. We would like very much to discuss the political situation with him for an hour or so, and find out who he thinks would be the best man for the democratic nomination next summer, but at the present time we do not see how we will be able to make it. No doubt the committee will find it hard to get along without us, but they will have to do the best they can.

In reading the bottom of the invitation we find that the committee would like us to make a mention of the date of the president's visit in our valuable paper, so that the public in general might be informed of the event. After mature consideration it has occurred to us that possibly it was free advertising the committee wanted rather than our presence in the Ancient city. For the benefit of those who may have the time to attend we will state that the president will be there on Thursday, October 26, from eight to nine thirty o'clock, A. M.

Death of Otto Kauth.

Otto Kauth, who has been employed as head drafter for the Consolidated Water Power & Paper Company for some time past, died very suddenly on Monday night at about two o'clock, having been sick since eight o'clock that evening.

Mr. Kauth was on duty nights and about eight o'clock Monday evening noticed that his left arm and hand was in a paralyzed condition. The paralysis rapidly extended to his left leg and he sat down in a chair and told his fellow workmen of his trouble and asked them to summon a physician. They did so but before the doctor arrived the paralysis had extended to his entire body and he had lost consciousness.

The man was taken to his home where he was given every attention possible, but in spite of all that could be done for him he passed away about two o'clock, death being caused by cerebral hemorrhage.

Deceased was 31 years of age and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his death.

Farmer Has Narrow Escape.

John Granger of the town of Sigel, fell down the elevator shaft at the Beland Packing Co's. plant on Wednesday last and was severely bruised, altho not seriously injured.

Mr. Granger had delivered some sheep at the packing plant and in trying to find his way to the office, walked into the elevator shaft. It was at noon when the lights are shut down, which accounts for the mistake. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried to the office and a physician summoned when it was discovered that no bones were broken, and Mr. Granger has since almost recovered from his injuries.

Harvest Festival.

The annual Harvest festival of St. John's Episcopal church will be held Tuesday, Oct. 24th. A bountiful harvest supper will be served in the Guild hall at 6 o'clock, followed by a musical service in the church. The choir under the direction of Mrs. L. P. Witter will render a "Song of Thanksgiving," a cantata for harvest use by J. H. Maunders. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Harry Link of Manitowish. All are cordially invited to attend.

Fractured His Collar Bone.

While riding horseback on Saturday afternoon Isaac P. Witter was thrown from his horse by the sudden shying of the animal and was thrown to the ground, striking so heavily as to sustain a fracture of the collar bone.

The fracture was subsequently reduced and he has since been getting along as well as can be expected under the existing circumstances.

Held on New Charge.

James Moore, the man who has been in jail the past week awaiting examination on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses, was up before Justice Pominville on Monday and the case was dismissed under the old charge and a new one preferred, he now being accused of forging a bank draft. The case was then adjourned to Tuesday, Oct. 24th.

SOO MAY BUILD A VALLEY DIVISION.

The report continues that the Soo Company contemplates the building of a line from Wausau to Stevens Point, and there may be something in the report. The following on the subject is taken from the Stevens Point Journal.

Three men recently made a trip between Stevens Point and Wausau, and thereupon has been woven the story that they were engineers, that they were in the employ of the Soo and that the object of their trip was to familiarize themselves with the topography of the country between the two cities. The route taken by the three strangers, it is stated, was a straight one between the two points and that they passed about four miles east of Madison. Also that the distance between Stevens Point and Wausau, on a straight line, is only about thirty miles.

The story also goes on to say that the three strangers who were journeying through the valley with their faces turned toward the north, declined to give even the faintest inkling of the object of their journey. That the world is much smaller than in the olden times when the Egyptians walked dry shod on the bottom of the sea. In these times it is difficult for anyone to travel afar without running across someone he knows or someone who knows him. And this is what happened to one of the members of the party of three. A resident of Madison ran across the men, so it is related, and found that he was personally acquainted with one of them; and the Madison man, who is further stated, knows that the man is an engineer and that he is in the employ of the Soo company. From which but one deduction can be drawn: The three men were in the employ of the Soo line, they had been sent to look over the ground, and the Soo is seriously contemplating the building of a line down, or up, the Wisconsin river valley between the cities of Stevens Point and Wausau.

"The Traveling Salesman."

What should prove of unusual interest to the local theatregoers is the approaching appearance of Robert E. O'Connor in James Forbes' latest comedy "The Traveling Salesman," which comes to Daly's Theatre soon. Although this comedy from the pen of the author of "The Chorus Lady" has been running steadily for over a year, it has spent nearly all its time in New York, Chicago and Boston. This should be sufficient evidence that Mr. Forbes has written a worthy successor to "The Chorus Lady."

Band Dance.

The Grand Rapids band will give a social dance in the Amusement hall on Friday evening, October 20, on which occasion the music for the dance will be furnished by the band. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Thursday morning the accused entered a plea of guilty in Justice Larner's court and was assessed a fine of $25 and the costs of the action.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Breunna, and the happy couple left the same day on a wedding tour through the southern part of the state, expecting to be gone about a week, and upon their return will make their home on the east side in this city.

Both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known in this city, the bride having lived in this city all her life and is a most estimable young lady, while the groom is one of our enterprising young insurance men. They have many friends who will unite with the Tribune in extending the heartiest of congratulations and wishing them a happy journey thru life.

Telephone Linesman Hurt.

Will Nobles was quite severely hurt on Tuesday while at his work as linesman for the Wood County Telephone Co. He was climbing a telephone pole west of the city when the pole fell with him. He was knocked senseless by the fall and was found by his fellow workmen, who picked him up and brought him to his home in this city.

Although badly shaken up by the fall, no bones were broken and it is expected that he will recover from his injuries in a few days.

The novel sight of an automobile mired on one of our public highways within a block and a half of the postoffice occurred on Saturday evening, the mud being so deep that it was impossible to move in either direction. It was necessary to call on the services of another machine to pull out the stranded vehicle. Now we do not know much about road building, but if we had our say about the matter there are some of the streets about town that would receive a good thick coating of gravel or crushed rock so that after a few days rain they could not work up to the consistency of mortar.

Unable to Attend.

The editor of the Tribune is in receipt of an urgent invitation to be present in Green Bay on the occasion of President Taft's visit to that city, which occurs in the near future. The president is going to be there for an hour and a half, and we can readily realize what a disappointment it will be to him if we are not there to assist at the welcome. We would like very much to discuss the political situation with him for an hour or so, and find out who he thinks would be the best man for the democrats to nominate next summer, but at the present time do not see how we will be able to make it. No doubt the committee will find it hard to get along without us, but they will have to do the best they can.

In reading the bottom of the invitation we find that the committee would like us to make a mention of the date of the president's visit in our valuable paper, so that the public in general might be informed of the event. After mature consideration it has occurred to us that possibly it was free advertising the committee wanted rather than our presence in the Ancient city. For the benefit of those who may have time to attend we will state that the president will be here on Thursday, October 26, from eight to nine thirty o'clock, a. m.

Death of Otto Kauth.

Otto Kauth, who has been employed as head fireman for the Consolidated Water Power & Paper Company for some time past, died very suddenly on Monday night at about two o'clock, having been sick since eight o'clock that evening.

Mr. Kauth was on duty nights and about eight o'clock Monday evening noticed that his left arm and hand was in a paralyzed condition. The paralysis rapidly extended to his left leg and he sat down in a chair and told his fellow workmen of his trouble and asked them to summon a physician. They did so but before the doctor arrived the paralysis had extended to his entire body and he had lost consciousness.

The man was taken to his home where he was given every attention possible, but in spite of all that could be done for him he passed away about two o'clock, death being caused by cerebral hemorrhage.

Deceased was 34 years of age and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his death.

Farmer Has Narrow Escape.

John Grainger of the town of Sigel, fell down the elevator shaft at the Reiland Packing Co.'s plant on Wednesday last and was severely bruised, although not seriously injured.

Mr. Grainger had delivered some sheep at the packing plant and in trying to find his way to the office, walked into the elevator shaft. It was at noon when the lights are shut down, which accounts for the mistake.

He was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried to the office and a physician summoned when it was discovered that no bones were broken, and Mr. Grainger has since almost recovered from his injuries.

Harvest Festival.

The annual Harvest festival of St. John's Episcopal church will be held Tuesday, Oct. 24th. Witter will render a "Song of Thanksgiving," a cantata for harvest used by J. H. Maunders. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Harry Link of Manston. All are cordially invited to attend.

Fractured His Collar Bone.

While riding horseback on Saturday afternoon Isaac P. Witter was thrown from his horse by the sudden shying of the animal and was thrown to the ground, striking so heavily as to sustain a fracture of the collar bone. The fracture was subsequently reduced and he has since been getting along as well as can be expected under the existing circumstances.

Held on New Charge.

James Moore, the man who has been in jail the past week awaiting examination on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses, was up before Justice Pomainville on Monday and the case was dismissed under the old charge and a new one preferred, he now being accused of forging a bank draft. The case was then adjourned to Tuesday, Oct. 24th.

Masons Buy Property.

The local lodge of Masons have purchased during the past week the Congregational church property on the west side, consideration $2500. Beaten at Oshkosh.

The local high school football team went to Oshkosh to play last Saturday and were beaten by a score of 27 to 0. The boys report that the field at Oshkosh was one mass of mud and water and that the game was anything but a pleasant affair on this account.

SOO MAY BUILD A VALLEY DIVISION.

The report continues that the Soo Company contemplates the building of a line from Wausau to Stevens Point, and there may be something in the report. The following on the subject is taken from the Stevens Point Journal:

Three men recently made a trip between Stevens Point and Wausau, and thereupon has been woven the story that they were engineers; that they were in the employ of the Soo line and that the object of their trip was to familiarize themselves with the topography of the country between the two cities. The route taken by the three strangers, it is stated, was a straight one between the two points and that they passed about four miles east of Mosinee. Also that the distance between Stevens Point and Wausau, on a straight line, is only about thirty miles.

The story also goes on to say that the three strangers who were journeying through the valley with their faces turned toward the north, declined to give even the faintest inkling of the object of their journey. But the world is much smaller than in the olden times when the Egyptians walked dry shod on the bottom of the sea. In these times it is difficult for anyone to travel afar without running across someone he knows or someone who knows him. And this is what happened to one of the members of the party of three. A resident of Mosinee ran across the men, so it is related, and found that he was personally acquainted with one of them; and the Mosinee man, so it is further stated, knows that the man is an engineer and that he is in the employ of the Soo company. From which but one deduction can be drawn: The three men were in the employ of the Soo line, they had been sent to look over the ground, and the Soo is seriously contemplating the building of a line down, or up, the Wisconsin river valley between the cities of Stevens Point and Rhineland.

"The Traveling Salesman."

What should prove of unusual interest to the local theatregoers, is the approaching appearance of Robert E. O'Connor in James Forbes' latest comedy "The Traveling Salesman," which comes to Daly's Theatre soon. Although this comedy from the pen of the author of "The Chorus Lady," has been running steadily for over a year, it has spent nearly all its time in New York, Chicago and Boston. This should be sufficient evidence that Mr. Forbes has written a worthy successor to "The Chorus Lady."

Band Dance.

The Grand Rapids band will give a social dance in the Amusement hall on Friday evening, October 20, on which occasion the music for the band will be furnished by the band. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Stevens Case Adjourned.

The case against Guy Stevens came up before Justice Brown on Thursday when the defendant filed an affidavit of prejudice and took the case to Justice Pomainville. Here an adjournment was taken until October 26th.

Wood Must be Measured.

One feature of the new law regarding weights and measures, which will go into effect January 1, relates to the selling of wood for fuel. As the law reads after that date it will not be permissible to sell by the "load"—every lot of wood sold or delivered must contain a certain number of cubic feet. This innovation will bring pleasure to a great number of Grand Rapids people who have been buying wood "on the square" and who have often complained of short measure. The law will please a number of farmers, also, because the criticism for short measure has in the past not been discriminative—the blame has been indiscriminately heaped upon the man who gave full measure and the fellows whose load was short, and the interior punks, knotty and rotten.

It will be necessary, also, after that date to give a duplicate weight ticket with every load of coal, charcoal or coke and to make no sales whatever except by weight. The theory of this law, in this and other matters, is that the consumer shall get just what he pays for—and of course that is right.

Odd Fellows Open Hall.

The Odd Fellows celebrated the opening of their new building last Wednesday afternoon and evening by the serving of a banquet at their building during the fore part of the evening and a social dance at the Amusement hall later the same evening.

The banquet was commenced at five o'clock and continued for about three hours, during which time a large number availed themselves of the opportunity to partake of the good things set forth by the ladies. The dance later in the evening was not so largely attended but those present had a good time.

The Odd Fellows are to be congratulated upon the completion of their new hall, they being the first lodge in the city to own a building all their own.

Entertained at Whist.

A very pleasant bridge whist party was held at the home of Mrs. James Wright on Third street. The house was very prettily decorated with carnations and ferns. Nine tables were occupied by the interested bridge players for a couple of hours, during the afternoon, after which delicious refreshments were served. First and second honors were received by Mrs. Charles Hoole and Mrs. Will Conway while Mrs. George Hambricht received the consolation as a reward of merit.

It was a very delightful party and that Mrs. Wright makes a charming hostess was acknowledged by all present.

An Expensive Drink.

Frank Kiodocki, who claims a residence at Grand Rapids, was handed over to the Wausau authorities Wednesday evening by Conductor Peter Hollinshead of the St. Paul railroad, charged with having violated the state laws by taking a drink of intoxicating liquor on a railroad train. Thursday morning the accused entered a plea of guilty in Justice Larner's court and was assessed a fine of $25 and the costs of the action.

Last Thursday, October 12th, was the anniversary of the day on which Christopher Columbus discovered America, and while he didn't know that it was America that he had discovered, still he proved to the world that there was something in the shape of land over on this side of the water and blazed the trail, so to speak, for the men who followed him before that time had confined their discoveries to that portion of the world not out of sight of the old world. While some writers and would-be historians have tried to belittle the achievements of Columbus by declaring that he was not the discoverer of the new world, they have gained but little by their efforts. He must have been quite a fellow, anyway, and the only thing we have against him is that he was not an American. At the time Columbus was in his prime, navigation had not been reduced to the fine art it is today. While the mariner's compass was in existence at that time, it was rather a crude affair compared with the instruments that are in use today, and for a man to leave his home and mother-in-law, and start out in a westerly direction when ninety-nine out of a hundred believed that the earth was flat, and that after reaching a certain part, the thing ended and would let him drop off into space, he must have been a man with the courage of his convictions, and then some. When Christopher started out he had no trouble in getting plenty of sailors to accompany him on the trip, it being evident that they looked upon the job as an easy one, a sort of a summer vacation, which would end in a few weeks. However, his mistake and made up their minds to turn back, but Christopher would not have it that way. He used to call the roll in the morning with a checkered cloth in one hand and a blunderbuss charged with a handful of grapeshot in the other. This was to impress the boys with the fact that there would be something doing in the shape of a rough house if they tried any monkey business with the old man. Christopher wasn't cutting much ice with the powers when he left home, but when he got back wearing a year's growth of whiskers and with a description of the country he had visited on the other side of the globe, he was all the mariner and there was nothing too good for him. It's only a little over four hundred years since Columbus first sighted the shores of America, not a long time when compared with eternity, and yet there have been some changes since his day. Too bad the old boy cannot take a trip back here occasionally and see how things are getting on.

First Social Center Conference.
Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—The first national conference ever held for the purpose of furthering the social center movement will be called at the University of Wisconsin from October 26 to 27, under the auspices of the extension division of the university and the Social Center Association of America. Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey will deliver the opening address, his subject being "The Need of Citizenship Organization."
The social center movement in rural communities and the school house as a social center will be the topics for discussion on Oct. 27. Addresses will be delivered by Herbert Quick, editor of Farm and Fireside; P. V. Collins, editor of the North-Western Agriculturist; Dean E. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin; Charles E. McLaughlin, librarian, Milwaukee; Dr. John R. Commons of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission; Dr. G. E. Young, health commissioner of Chicago; Clarence A. Perry of the Russell Sage Foundation; Lily S. Richard, editor of Boston Common; and the Hon. Moses E. Clapp, U. S. senator from Minnesota and an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin.
A banquet on Saturday evening, Oct. 28, at which toasts will be responded to by William Allen White, Miss Zona Gale, Col. S. S. McClure of McClure's Magazine, Dr. Josiah Strong, Frank P. Walsh, Mayor Hayes of Prescott, Wis., and Mrs. David Kirk, the first woman school superintendent in America, will conclude the conference.
At the conference special attention will be called to the necessity for places of meeting for citizens in every community where topics of public interest can be discussed. Methods of organizing neighborhood clubs for the development of public spirit through the open presentation and free discussion of all public questions will also be considered. The idea of citizenship organization is the basis of the whole social center movement and will therefore be given chief place in the discussions at the conference. The leaders of the movement hope that by the organization of a machine of citizenship, including men of all parties who come together to discuss and understand the problems of democracy and to express the citizens' right to self government, an effective method to control the bi-partisan machine in city, state and national government will be secured.

What We Do Not Know About Hay.
One of the plain contradictions between fact and fancy, between scientific truth and common error, between market price and true feeding value, and which no man has been able to explain, is that of timothy hay. Here it is selling in the Port Abington local market for $20 a ton, while it actually contains less than half the protein of clover and only about one-fourth that of alfalfa. This shows the power of custom and habit over reason and sound sense.
The one thing the farmer is sure to produce and which he knows the least about, either scientifically or practically, either as to how best to grow it, cure it, or feed it, is hay. It is amazing that there should be such a widespread lack of definite judgment on this, one of the most important questions in farming. If there is to be any change for the better, in point of judgment it seems fated that it must take a full life time to make its way.

On page 907 of Hoards Dairyman, it is stated that timothy hay is selling in the New Orleans market for $20.50 to $28 per ton, yet feeders think they are paying a good price, if they give $16 a ton for lespedeza or Javan clover hay. Now lespedeza contains double the nutrient that timothy does. If timothy is worth $20 a ton in our local market, by a true comparison of feeding value, alfalfa ought to be worth $70 a ton. That fact shows what we really know about hay.

One year we wintered our farm horses in tip-top condition on twelve pounds of alfalfa hay and nine ears of corn each daily. If we had used timothy, they would have half starved.—Hoards Dairyman.

NEKOOSA

(From the Times)

Many Nekoosa people realized for the first time the extent of the high waters caused by recent rains, when the Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co., park was viewed Monday morning. The overflow water from the Wisconsin river had increased until at ten o'clock the park, from the river bank, parallel with a point at least seventy-five yards west of Frank Boies' residence, was covered with water. Some water here, thank you.

Charlie Ousey of Chicago arrived here last Saturday afternoon to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Harvey Paakonnan, but the train being late, he did not arrive in time to see the remains of his sister, whom he had not seen for fifteen years.

Mrs. Rob. Day and son, Charlie, returned Saturday from Portland, Oregon, having been gone from this city about three months. They were accompanied home by the former's daughter, Mrs. Clarence Wiebel, formerly Miss Lizette Day, of this village, and her little daughter.

Napoleon Hoyoski, who has been a resident of Nekoosa for the past three years, left Wednesday, October 11, 1911, for his native country, Russia, Poland, where he will visit his parents and other relatives for several months. Mr. Hoyoski has been very successful since coming to America, and after his visit with home folks will probably return to Nekoosa for permanent residence.

Mrs. H. H. Voss invited the teachers, School Board and the neighbors to a seven o'clock dinner, Wednesday evening of last week, in honor of Mr. Voss' birthday. It was a surprise on Mr. Voss, and as it was the case, a genuine surprise. After dinner Mrs. H. H. Helke, in a few well chosen words, presented Mr. Voss with a beautiful hampered brass smoker set, as a birthday remembrance from the guests, which will be highly prized by Mr. Voss.

VESPER
(From the State Center.)

Just for the present, at least, Vesper can boast of having four railroads. During the last few days the Green Bay & Western have been running trains from Grand Rapids to Merrill via Marshfield over the North Western line. The bridge and a portion of the tracks on the Green Bay & Western line at Marshfield was washed out when the dam went out. Newspaper reports say it will take nearly a month to get the bridge and track into passable condition.

The wagon bridge on the Arpin branch of Hamilton Creek near the D. D. Sawin farm went out in the freshet last Friday so the rural mail carrier could not get through. The bridge was replaced Monday so traffic is resumed.

A. Holstein had an unpleasant experience just north of town last Friday. The high water was over the road and in some manner the horse got into the water and the buggy tipped over making things interesting for a few moments.

Just at this time there is a grand rush of silo filling going on among the farmers; silage is an excellent crop and as considerable over 100 silos have been put up around here this season it will hustle the farmers to get silos filled owing to the fact that there is not enough silage cutting rigs in the country to meet the demands. There is just across upon acres of silage corn—heretofore, which means that the dairy products will be greatly increased this coming year.

While doing her regular routine of house work Friday evening, Mrs. John Murgatroyd was pleasantly reminded of her birthday when her children accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Whitehouse and Miss Dorothy dropped in upon her. By a well timed arrangement she was persuaded to sit down and chat awhile before going to dress up for the evening.

When she opened the hall door to go up stairs she was confronted with some nice rugs and a beautiful hall tree which had been placed there to surprise her. To say she was surprised is to put it mildly. The evening was pleasantly spent and the guests retired wishing many more just as happy birthdays.

At the German Lutheran church in this village at 10:30 o'clock on Wednesday, Oct. 11th, the Rev. Bantz spoke the words that bound in the bonds of Holy matrimony, Miss Alma Ziehr and Mr. Otto Schultz. The wedding couple were attended by Miss Emma Ziehr and Albert Stako. After the ceremony the wedding parties went to Grand Rapids returning in the afternoon to be present at the wedding dance given at the opera house in the evening.

PITTSVILLE.
(From the Record.)

The dance of the Pottawatamie Indians began Saturday last. This dance lasts from three days to a week and is indulged in by the tribe at Power's Bluff and visiting Indians from all over the United States, some of them coming from Nebraska.

While the Indians do not care to have onlookers witnessing their antics at these religious dances, they will not turn people away and even have notified several in the city here of the time the dance is to take place.

There is one thing, however, which they make especially known, and that is that they will not countenance the taking of pictures of the dance by enthusiastic kodak people. It is likely they have been bothered by this past, as this year in the issuing of their invitations they have made special mention that no pictures will be allowed to be taken.

F. S. Woodworth has made purchase of the Mason property (the old Schlegel home) in this city. Mrs. Mason was here last week and made transfer of the papers. It has been some ten years since she has been in the city. The Masons formerly were in the hotel business here and at one time Mr. Mason was agent at the St. Paul depot. It is understood that the barn on this property has been sold to Harry Ames, and the property (house and lot) has been sold to O. E. McKee.

Owing to the rainy weather Friday evening there was no basket social and at the present date the Royal Neighbors haven't decided whether they will try and have one at some future date. Now there are a "certain few" that have been jollying the Neighbors about not being able to get up any delings without having some draw back but again there are "certain few" that are wise enough to use their own judgment and own that the Royal Neighbors always do justice to all they undertake, to do. Well we are all sorry it ruined but whatever else the Royal Neighbors try to be they haven't got boasted of being weather prophets.

BIRON

Last Thursday at the Catholic parsonage at 6:30 a. m., occurred the marriage of Antoinette Akey, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akey, and Harold E. Will, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Will of Muscatine, Iowa. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Bortha, while Grover Akey, cousin of the bride acted as best man. The bride was attired in a beautiful traveling suit, wearing a white French felt hat with a touch of lavender. The groom wore a rich dark blue suit. The bride is a charming young lady and has spent the greater part of her life in this vicinity. She is well and favorably known and by her pleasant disposition has won a host of friends. For the past five years she has made her home with her uncle, E. J. Akey, and family of Muscatine, Iowa, formerly of Eau Claire, where she became acquainted with Mr. Will. The groom is a prosperous young man of sterling qualities, and is employed as book-keeper by the John A. Kaiser Lumber Co. of Eau Claire. The young couple left on the early morning train for Muscatine, Iowa, where they will visit relatives for a couple of weeks. While on their way they stopped off at Chicago, the guests of the Dr. S. Hulst family. The beautiful day of sunshine, as contrasted with our many previous rainy days, tended to add much to the bliss of the happy pair.

William DeMars has moved his family to your city.

Mrs. Jim Gokey is reported to be seriously ill. We hope she may soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Rayome of Rudolph spent Sunday in this burg with relatives.

The Chris Oleson family are the proud owners of a new piano.

Our hotel is being improved considerably. The house is being painted and shingled and will soon be in first class condition.

The Third Degree

By CHARLES KLEIN
AND
ARTHUR HORNBLow
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

Placed the Rolls and Butter on the Table.

Howard Jeffries, banker's son, under the influence of Robert Underwood, who was a friend of his father's, had become a member of the underworld. He was a gambler, a drinker, and a womanizer. He had been engaged to a girl named Alice, but she had broken off the engagement because of his bad habits.

CHAPTER XIX.

The Jeffries case suddenly entered into an entirely new phase, and once more was deemed of sufficient public interest to warrant column after column of space comment in the newspapers. The town awoke one morning to learn that the long-suffering witness, the mysterious woman on whose testimony everything hinged, had not only been found, but proved to be the prisoner's own wife, who had been so active in his defense.

This announcement was stupefying enough to overshadow all other news, and the public mind was satisfied that the most famous trial for scandalousness.

The first question asked on all sides was: Why had not the wife come forward before? The reason, as glibly explained by an evening journal of complacent yellow pressites, was long and short enough. The telling of her old night visit to a single man's room involved a shameful admission which any woman might well hesitate to make unless forced to it as a last extremity. Confronted, however, with the alternative of otherwise seeing her husband suffer for a crime of which he was innocent or making public acknowledgment of her own frailty, she had chosen the latter course. Naturally, and so weak that he had several fainting spells. Much alarmed, Anne summoned Dr. Bernstein, who administered a tonic. He was nothing to cause anxiety, he said, reassuredly. It was a natural reaction after what her husband had undergone. But it was worry as much as anything else. Howard worried about his father, with whom he was only partially reconciled; he worried about his future, which was as precarious as ever, and most of all he worried about his wife. He was not ignorant of the circumstances which had brought about his release, and while there was awe to him, it had been a terrible shock when he first heard that she was the woman who had visited Underwood's room. He refused to believe her sworn evidence. How was it possible? Why should she go to Underwood's room knowing he was there? It was preposterous. Still the small voice rang in his ears—perhaps she's afraid! It haunted him till one day he asked point-blank for an explanation. Then she told that she had perjured herself. She was not the woman. Who she really was she could not say. He must be satisfied for the present with the assurance that it was not his wife. With that he was content. What did he care for the opinion of others? He knew—that was enough. In their conversation on the subject Anne did not even mention Alice's name. Why should she?

Weeks passed, and Howard's health did not improve. He had tried to find a position, but without success, yet every day brought his obligations which had to be met. One morning Anne was bustling about their tiny dining room preparing the table for their frugal luncheon. She had just placed the rolls and butter on the table, and arranged the chairs, when there came a ring at the front door. Early visitors were not so infrequent as to cause surprise, so, without waiting to remove her apron, she went to the door and opened it. Dr. Bernstein entered.

"Good morning, Mrs. Jeffries," he said, cheerily. Putting down his medical bag, he asked: "How is our patient this morning?" "All right, doctor. He had a splendid night's rest. I'll call him." "Never mind. I want to talk to you." Seriously, he went on: "Mrs. Jeffries, your husband needs a change of scene. He's worrying. That fainting spell the other day was only a symptom. I'm afraid he'll break down unless—"

"Unless what?" she demanded, anxiously. "He hesitated for a moment, as if unwilling to give utterance to words he knew must inflict pain. Then he quickly continued: "Your husband is under a great mental strain. His inability to support you, his banishment from his proper sphere in the social world is mental torture to him. He feels his position keenly. There is nothing else to occupy his mind but thoughts of his utter and complete failure in life. I was talking to his father last night, and—"

But public opinion was too intelligent to be hoodwinked for any length of time by a brutal and ignorant policeman. There was a clamor for the being said about my character, for he, doctor? And I'm not going to stand in his light, even if it doesn't exactly make me the brightest woman in the world, but don't let it trickle into your mind that I'm doing it to his father's sake."

At that moment Howard entered from the inner room. He was surprised to see Dr. Bernstein.

"How do you feel to-day?" asked the doctor.

"First rate! Oh, I'm all right. You see, I'm just going to end a bite. Won't you join us?"

He sat down at the table and picked up the newspaper, while Anne bustled herself with carrying in the dishes.

"No, thank you," laughed the doctor. "It's too early for me. I've only just had breakfast. I dropped in to see how you were." Taking up his bag, he said: "Good-by! Don't get up. I can let myself out."

But Anne had already opened the door for him, and smiled a farewell. When she returned to her seat at the head of the table, and began to pour out the coffee, Howard said:

"He's a pretty decent fellow, isn't he?"

"Yes," she replied, absent-mindedly, as she passed a cup of coffee.

"He made a monkey of Capt. Clinton all right," went on Howard. "What did he come for?"

"To see you—of course," she replied.

"Oh, I'm all right now," he replied, looking anxiously at his wife across the table. He said: "You're the one that needs tuning up. I heard you crying last night. You thought I was asleep, but I wasn't. I didn't say anything because—well—I felt kind of blue myself."

Annie sighed and leaned her head on her hand. Wearily she said:

"I was thinking over all that we've been through together, and what they're saying about us—"

Howard threw down his newspaper impatiently.

"Let them say what they like. Why should we care as long as we're happy?"

His wife smiled sadly.

"Are we happy?" she asked, gently.

"Of course we are," replied Howard.

She looked up and smiled. It was good to hear him say so, but did he mean it? Was she doing right to stand in the way of his career? Would he not be happier if she left him? He was too loyal to suggest it, but perhaps in his heart he desired it. Looking at him tenderly, she went on:

"I don't question your affection for me, Howard. I believe you love me, but I'm afraid that, sooner or later, you'll ask yourself the question all your friends are asking now, the question everybody seems to be asking."

"What question?" demanded Howard.

"Yesterday the bell rang and a gentleman said he wanted to see you. I told him you were out, and he said 'I'd do just as well. He handed me a card. On it was the name of the newspaper he represented.'"

"He asked me if it were true that proceedings for a divorce were about to be instituted. If so, when? And could I give him any information on the subject? I asked him who wanted the information, and he said the readers of his paper—the people—I believe he said over a million of them. Just think, Howard! Over a million people, not counting your father, your friends and relations, all writing to know why you don't get rid of me, and you don't believe me to be as bad as they think I am—"

Howard raised his hand for her to desist.

"Annie—please!" he pleaded.

"That's the fact, isn't it?" she laughed.

"No."

His wife's head dropped on the table. She was crying now.

"I've made a hard fight, Howard," she sobbed, "but I'm going to give up. I'm through—I'm through!"

Howard took hold of her hand and carried it to his lips.

"Annie, old girl," he said, with some feeling. "I may be weak, I may be afraid, but nobody on top of God's green earth can tell me that you're not the squarest, straightest little woman that ever lived. I don't care a damn what one million or eight million think. Supposing you had received letters from Underwood, supposing you had gone to his room to beg him not to kill himself—what of it? It would be for a good motive, wouldn't it? Let them talk all the bad of you they want. I don't believe a word of it—you know I don't."

She looked up and smiled through her tears.

"You're so good, dear," she exclaimed. "Yes, I know you believe in me." She stopped and continued, sadly: "But you're only a boy, you know. What of the future, the years to come?" Howard's face became serious, and she went on: "You see you've thought about it, too, and you're trying to hide it from me. But you can't. Your father wants you to go abroad with the family."

"Well?"

MEETING OF STATE PASTORS A SUCCESS

Annual Gathering of Congregationalists Closes.

Association Thank Sheldon

Treasurer Olds of Madison Reports the Receipts of Last Year as $39,336.21, With Disbursements as $38,849.43.

Madison.—The seventy-third annual meeting of the Wisconsin Congregational association which closed in Fond du Lac has been one of the most successful in the history of the organization, writes H. A. Miter of Madison.

Treasurer I. L. Olds of Madison reported the receipts of the association for the last year as $39,336.21, with disbursements as $38,849.43, leaving a balance on hand of $2,186.78.

Superintendent F. M. Sheldon of Madison, following his report, received a rising vote of thanks from the association for his work during the last year in the course of which he preached thirty-eight sermons, gave forty-three addresses, attended the national council at Boston, fifteen conferences, ten district conventions and twenty-one conferences in local churches, edited "The Wisconsin Congregational Church Life" and adjusted several cases of international character.

Rev. E. H. Updegraff of Madison discussed "The Ethical and Spiritual Crisis of Organized Labor."

Secretary H. W. Carter of Madison reported the action of the international conference, which met in Madison last December at the call of the Wisconsin Federation of Churches and Christian Workers, in which over a dozen different denominations were represented.

Annual Convale of Knights Templar. The fifty-third annual convale of the grand commandery of the Knights Templar of Wisconsin convened at Milwaukee at the Masonic temple. The grand commandery is the legislative body of the order, and among the questions taken up at the convale were the revision of the constitution and of the by-laws.

The officers of the grand commandery are: George B. Wheeler, Eau Claire, grand commander. John C. Pohlandt, Madison, deputy grand commander.

E. B. Thayer, Wausau, grand generalissimo. A. E. Matheson, Janesville, grand captain general.

Robert H. Lang, Racine, grand son or warden. Charles F. Lamb, Madison, grand junior warden.

Rodman W. Rosworth, D. D., Sun Prairie, grand prelate. Charles H. Washburn, Racine, grand treasurer.

William W. Perry, Milwaukee, grand recorder. David Harlowe, Milwaukee, grand standard bearer.

Joseph R. Panke, La Crosse, grand sword bearer. George S. Reid, Ashland, grand warden.

John B. Cronwell, Milwaukee, grand captain of the guard. Trustees—Adolph H. Wagner, Alvin P. Kietzsch, Charles D. Rogers.

No New Licenses Till 1912. Secretary of State Pratt said that many owners of automobiles in Wisconsin soon to be under the impression that they can renew their licenses for 1912 by filing their applications this month. This is incorrect. Applications for license renewals should not be made until December 1. The new law requiring automobiles and motorcycles to be registered annually is now in force, but it will not affect existing licenses until January 1. The new registration fee for an automobile is five dollars and for a motorcycle two dollars.

To Reassess Janesville. Wisconsin state tax commission ordered a reassessment of the real and personal property in the city of Janesville and appointed as assessors to do the work Joseph E. Dalton of Silver Lake, Konosha county, and H. A. Cowles and W. J. Freeman of Madison. As a board to review and correct the work of these assessors, the commission appointed E. D. McGowan of Janesville, C. A. Shaw of Sharon and F. T. Tuchs of Jefferson. The work is to be done under the general supervision of F. P. Starr, supervisor of assessment of Rock county. The petition to the tax commission asking for the reassessment was made by H. L. Maxfield, who alleged that the assessment already made is inadequate and discriminatory.

Crossings to Be Guarded. Officials of steam and electric railroads of Wisconsin assured the state railroad commission at a conference here that they would place flagmen or install safety devices at all high-way crossings where they are needed. The conference was partly due to the fatal accident at a crossing in the city of Neenah.

Railroad men said that 90 per cent. of crossing accidents occurred where the highways do not meet the tracks at a right angle.

Merit Test November 11. The state civil service commission issued notice of a general competitive examination for state positions, to be held in various cities November 11. The most important of these is for assessors of incomes. The examination is for men and 40 appointments will probably be made. Another new position for which tests will be given is that of city sealer of food and measures, each city of more than 5,000 people except Milwaukee being required to employ one.

Big Inheritance Tax Paid. State Treasurer Dahl received from Attorney General Bancroft a check for $1,954.08 in final settlement of a claim of the state against the estate of H. O. Havemeyer, deceased, of New York, for inheritance tax.

Meeting in Fond du Lac. The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Congregational association was held in Fond du Lac. Quite a number of Missisquoians attended.

SALARIES A SHAME

Striking Pastor Utters Criticism of Clergy's Income.

Advocates State Board of Control Over Establishment of Congregations—Picture Preachers Often Near Starvation.

Lebanon, Ind.—"The manner in which the pastors of many of the churches in rural communities and small towns have to eke out meager salaries on the pitiable salaries given them, is a disgrace to Christianity, a reproach to American civilization and a reflection upon present-day church government," declares Rev. E. T. Greenleaf, who recently resigned the pastorate of the Lebanon circuit of three rural Methodist Protestant churches, because, in view of the present high cost of living, the salary was not sufficient to provide an adequate living for his family, and who, because of the publication of the reasons for his resignation, was left by the conference without an appointment for the ensuing year.

"The business world today does not know the conditions surrounding the financial affairs of the ministry," continued Rev. Mr. Greenleaf. "The church itself covers up the matter because if the truth became known the whole religious institution would be shamed. The ministers themselves suppress the facts because of their fear that the pulpits of churches would be closed to them in the future or because of a belief that the money-world would charge them with being mercenary if they should demand more pay."

Salaries of ministers in rural communities and small towns do not grow appreciably larger as the years go by. On the other hand, the preachers' old-time salaries are passing away. Railroads have withdrawn, or are withdrawing, transportation commodations. The local merchants are gradually abolishing the old-time complimentary methods of selling goods to ministers. All of the other avenues of outside help are becoming more and more choked, until they will soon be closed entirely. The calls upon the minister's purse are not lessening in number or insistence. He is considered legitimate and easy prey by many persons, members of his own flock included. While all this is true, the cost of living is steadily mounting higher and the salary that several years ago might have been ample to provide a living is no longer sufficient.

"No matter how small his salary, whether it is barely sufficient to keep him and his family from starvation, or not, the minister must wear good clothing and dress his family well, because the pride of the congregation demands it. What a shame it is that this Christian pride does not extend to the point that the parishioners are willing to pay their pastor salary sufficient to enable him to dress as he should without sacrificing his own or his family's physical well being in so doing."

Ministers belong to the noblest profession on earth. They deserve better treatment than they are receiving. They are not beggars. In the very nature of their profession they cannot be and probably to that fact is due the disposition of churches to pay them the least salary possible. Few churches are paying what they can afford. The tendency is all the other way.

The Rev. Mr. Greenleaf is forty-six years old. His family is his wife, five daughters and one son. His name here from Indianapolis, where he was employed in the city engineer's office as a mechanical and civil engineer draftsman. He thought that by extra work as a draftsman he might earn sufficient funds in addition to his salary to support his family here in comfort. However, the work of ministering to three country churches took too much of his time and the opportunities for doing outside work were few.

IAP AIRSHIP DREADNAUGHT

Greatest Aerial Machine in the World With a Speed of Seventy Miles an Hour.

San Francisco.—Japan is building the greatest dirigible balloon in the world. It will be 600 feet long, exceeding by 80 feet the length of the British dirigible launched recently at Harrow.

It will be a little more than 60 feet in diameter and will be fitted with six motors, each of 120-horsepower, so that its total driving force will be equivalent to 720-horsepower, or about twice that of the motors on the British airship.

These dirigibles are expected to be capable of driving an airship of its dimensions against a wind of 40 miles velocity, that is, a storm wind at the rate of 30 miles an hour. But if there should be no wind it could force its way through the air at a speed of 70 miles per hour.

For Boarding School. Napkin rings of hand beaten silver are designed especially for the use of boys and girls at boarding school. They are in an oval shape, about three and a half inches being the largest diameter, and the child's initials will be added for a consideration. The same rings are also sold for holding the baby's bib.

In the Same Boat. "Dilly—'I'm lost when my wife is away." "Dilly—I can never find my way home, either."—Town Topics.

Two of a Kind. "Going abroad this summer, Mrs. Leader?" "Why—ah—"

"Isn't that a coincidence? I'm not, either."

A FINE NIGHT-CAP

The Best Thing in the World to Go to Bed and Sleep On.

"My wife and I find that a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts and a cup of hot milk, or some cream, with it, makes the finest night-cap in the world," says an Allegheny, Pa., man.

"We go to sleep as soon as we strike the bed, and slumber like babies till rising time in the morning."

"It is about 3 years now since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, and we always have it for breakfast and before retiring and sometimes for lunch. I was so sick from what the doctors called acute indigestion and brain fatigue before I began to use Grape-Nuts that I could neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort."

"I was afflicted at the same time with the most intense pains, accompanied by a raging headache and backache, every time I tried to eat anything. Notwithstanding an unusual pressure from my professional duties, I was compelled for a time to give up my work altogether."

"Then I put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts and cream alone, with an occasional cup of Postum as a runner-up, and sometimes a little dry toast. I assure you that in less than a week I felt like a new man; I had gained six pounds in weight, could sleep well and think well."

"The good work went on, and I was soon ready to return to business, and have been hard at it, and enjoying it ever since."

"Command me at any time any one requires as to the merits of Grape-Nuts. You will find me always ready to testify." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Mr. Chumpleigh—My, but it's hot in here, don't you know. I feel as though I were being cooked.

Miss Canisius—Brolled lobstery isn't so bad.

Some Mosquitoes. "Yes," said the traveler who had just returned from South Africa. "I was one day so annoyed by mosquitoes that I was compelled to take refuge in an old iron safe which lay discarded on the verandah."

"My first, emotions of joy at my happy deliverance were hardly over when the mosquitoes, scenting me, began to drive their stingers through the safe. Fortunately, I had a hammer in my pocket, and as fast as their stingers came through the iron I clutched them, until at length such a host of them was fastened down in this way that, when they started to fly away, they carried me and that safe into the air."

"Then, one by one, they died with the exertion, and I was able to come out with safety. Yes, wonderful things happen in foreign parts!"—Ideas.

An Exacting Situation. "Doctor," said the nervous man, "Is there any way of teaching a person to talk in his sleep?"

"I never heard of any," replied the physician. "How could such an accomplishment be of any use?"

"It's either that or insomnia for me. My wife is one of the best unfrustrated speakers before the public. She always delivers her orations at home, and I've got to my 'beastly heart' or 'this is the stuff' at least once every ten minutes."—Washington Star.

The Kind. "Don't laugh at Miss Gladys Gooseberry on trivial. She is a scientific woman."

"She scientific? What kind?" "You must admit she is a chemical blonde."

A Paraphrase. "You take close notice of the places to which people are invited."

"Yes," replied Mrs. Cumrax; "in our circle invitations are to the silver-circled saloon."

Stevens Point Journal:—Mrs. Mary Szymanski, who lives in the town of Caron, was arrested on Wednesday by Under Sheriff Guyant and brought to this city. The warrant was issued upon complaint of Gustav Neumann, who alleged that on Oct. 11 the defendant committed an assault upon his wife, Mrs. Ida Neumann, with intent to do great bodily harm. It seems that Mr. Neumann is working some of the defendant's land on shares and a dispute arose over the division of the potato crop and that when Neumann and his wife were working in the field the defendant struck the latter on her back with the head of an axe, so it is alleged. When arraigned in county court the defendant pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned to Oct. 20. Her bail was fixed at $200, in default of which she was taken to jail.

Many of the duck hunters of this vicinity have been making trips to the wilds of Seneca and Cranmoor during the past week, looking for ducks. Had every shot that has been fired out in that locality brought down a duck there would have been such a sag in the meat business that at least half of the meat markets in the city would have been compelled to go out of business. However, the butchers are still flourishing. Nevertheless, this is great weather for ducks and a number of the boys have succeeded in bagging one or more.

Rhineland New North.—Late Thursday afternoon Olin, Reade, a farmer who resided with his family at one of Brown Brothers' old logging camps in the town of Sugar Camp, was shot while at work in his potato patch, receiving a wound which resulted in his death at St. Mary's hospital in the city at twelve o'clock Saturday night. Tuesday afternoon John Rhoda, who is also a farmer and a respected citizen in the same town, was arrested by Under Sheriff Amundson after confessing that he was responsible for Reade's death. Rhoda told the officer that he fired the fatal shot while under the impression that Reade was a bear. Reade and a fellow settler named Helmut were engaged in digging potatoes on an old logging road right off way when the accident occurred. It was about dusk. A rifle shot was heard in the nearby woods and Reade fell to the ground uttering a cry of agony. Rushing to his side Helmut found that the man had been wounded and carried him to his cabin for first aid.

Mr. and Mrs. John Parrish spent several days the past week at Mr. Parrish's farm near Snarry. Mr. Parrish reported on Monday that the water in Mill Creek, which runs thru his place, was still pretty high, and rising when he left.

The high water of last week washed out a stretch of the new macadam road constructed at Stevens Point during the past summer. The road is on the west side of the river and is that part leading to Rudolph about 325 feet of the highway being ruined. Steps were taken at once to repair the damage.

The latest report right from Washington is to the effect that Uncle Sam is to get out a new postal card. The new cards will be cream color, printed in red. The report is to the effect that the government wants us to have a really artistic postal card for use, the last one not having come up to the standard that was hoped for. It is an old saying that "you cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," and possibly it may be equally difficult to make a work of art out of a penny postal card.

Does This Hit You?

Just a few blocks away the merchant who handles vehicles and implements was sitting at breakfast with his family. The conversation drifted around to the near approach of school. "And that reminds me," said the lady who sat at the head of the table, "I must be going to the city not later than next week. I must get goods for the children's school clothes and see about a fall suit myself, and while there perhaps I had better see about a new rug for the parlor and lace curtains for the front window."

An hour later a loading grocer stepped into the bank to buy a draft which he was going to send to a catalogue house for a swell bedroom suite.

"How's business?" asked the banker. "Oh, not so very good," replied the grocer. "Things are dull just now."

Before the banker ceased writing the check a dapper young man with a grip stepped up and asked how everybody was. The banker seemed glad to see him. He was the representative of a big printing house in another state. He and the banker chatted pleasantly for a few minutes after which the young man inquired casually of his friend behind the window if he wanted anything. "Well, yes," replied the other, "I believe I do. Print us 500 drafts, 500 checks and a couple thousand letter heads."

The young man thanked him and hurried out.

That night the local business men held a meeting in the town hall to discuss the growth of the mail order evil. All of the gentlemen mentioned in the narrative delivered short talks. They all agreed that the farmers were guilty of treason to their home merchants when they persisted in buying their goods from mail order houses, and the meeting closed adopting strong resolutions against the habit of trading away from home.

—Kidney is the silent young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years.

Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman, or child is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the cause.

Mrs. Anna Keyes, 164 Pioneer St., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I am pleased to publicly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills for they live up to all the claims made for them. My back ached intensely and I often had pains across my loins. It was subject to dizzy and nervous spells and it was plain to be seen that my kidneys were at fault. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial, and they soon brought relief. I also gave this remedy to one of my children who was annoyed by a kidney weakness, and sure relief was received. Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon to bring prompt and lasting benefit."

The Buying Power of $1.75.

A little money sometimes buys a good deal. For instance, take the subscription price of The Youth's Companion for a year—$1.75. If all the good reading in the 52 weekly issues of the paper were published in book form, according to its kind, it would make about thirty volumes of fiction, science, essays by famous writers, household management and economics, sports and pastimes for boys, natural history, anecdotes, humor, etc. The serial stories alone would fill several volumes. Among these is Ralph Payne's great story of the Boxer Rebellion in China, "The Cross and the Dragon." Another is by J. W. Schultz, who was adopted by the Blackfeet when a boy. It is called "The Quest for the Fish-Dog Skin." Another is a glorious girl's story by O. A. Stephens, called "Julia Sylvester." It is the story of a "Merced" girl in the pioneer days of Oregon and Washington—and that is only part of the serials.

It will cost you nothing to send for the beautiful Announcement of The Companion for 1912, and we will send with it sample copies of the paper.

Do not forget that the new subscriber for 1912 receives a gift of The Companion's Calendar for 1912, lithographed in ten colors and gold, and all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1911 free from the time the subscription is received.

Only $1.75 now, but on January 1, 1912, the price will be advanced to $2.00.

WANTED TO BE AN AVIATOR

Missouri Girl Evidently Very Much in Earnest in Her Desire to Navigate the Air.

Mr. Claude Grahame-White, the famous English aviator, is constantly besought by young women to teach them to become aviators. Many make application by letter. One of these letters reached him the other day from a point in Missouri. Cleared of its errors in grammar, spelling and capitalization, it read something like this:

"Oh, Mr. Grahame-White, teach me to be a 'planor'. I saw one of them at Kansas City and I think it is just heavenly. I would like to run a Wright monoplane or a Blériot bi-plane, but if you have a better flyer
I would try that. I think I would look cute running a baby flyer. The boys be-couldn't mind my having a baby one.
Wouldn't you bring one out here for a week or so and show me how to run it? I assure you a good time."
Mr. Grahame-White was compelled to decline the young woman's kind invitation.

THEN HE GOT WORSE.

The Angry Man—I see the scoundrel
in your face.
The Calm Man—That's a personal reflection.

Hopeless.
First Motorist—I have driven a car
for two years and I've never yet run down anybody.
Second Motorist (disgustedly)—Why
don't you quit trying and hire a chauffeur?—Puck.

man who will sell his blight for a mess of pottage as it was in the time of Esau.

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Separate the lambs from the ewes.

It is said that hawks never attack
ducklings.

Few hogs can perfectly digest
clear, timothy hay.

Buying dairy feed is expensive,
sometimes extravagant.

The coops and yard and houses
should be cleaned daily.

Oats for the brood sows will produce better muscle for the pigs.

The long-headed farmer is the one who has hay to sell in the spring.

The lambs should have extra feed
in a wide-bottomed trough in the pasture.

The sows thus fed during the breeding season will produce strong, vigorous pigs.

Even with hogs the value of good feed is wonderfully increased by these attentions.

There is always more or less loss
of butter fat when the cream is evenly ripened.

Allow them plenty of exercise, and give them a light feed of grain and plenty of pasture.

It takes a stockman's eye to detect
the first symptoms of falling conditions of his stock.

The per cent of butter fat in a cow's milk is not a sure index to her capacity as a butter maker.

Sheep give on an average more pounds of meat per bushel of grain than either hogs or cattle.

It often takes a number of generations to thoroughly change the disposition from timidity to quiescence.

If the sitting hen cannot get a good nest but when she comes off her nest,
trouble will result later sure.

While the chickens should be well supplied with food at this period, we must also guard against overfeeding.

Crops must be gathered in proper condition and sent to the market fresh and clean. Careful grading is essential.

No man is in a better position to build up his soil than a dairyman, if he uses wisely the forces at his command.

Never salt the horse's feed in the box. Place a big lump where he can reach it and he will take it when he needs it.

A very acceptable ration can be made by letting each animal have daily all the oat and vetch hay she will consume.

Do not put more than 50 chicks in one brooder, or one compartment, and better results will be secured with a smaller number.

If you have no green, growing feed for your ducks, alfalfa meal makes a fine substitute. Sprouts, barley is also a good substitute.

A small silo to open up in the summer with shade for the pigs is the cheapest and best means of keeping up the milk flow.

Do not let any weed go to seed in the orchard or garden. It is easier to kill the one plant than the hundred coming forth next year.

Never pasture too closely. Leaves are essential to plant growth and enough should always be left to promote a good growth of plants.

If you have anything the matter with your hogs just put them on a diet of dry oats and water and see how quickly they will come around.

If any fruits or vegetables are marketed, see that they are put up in clean, neat and well-graded packages.
They will sell quicker and at a better
price.

Keep the house well ventilated at night so that the chickens are supplied with an unlimited amount of fresh air and are kept moderately cool.

No female can expect to transmit to her offspring better qualities than she possesses herself unless she is mated with a sire with greater prepotency.

Keep all windfall apples and plums off the ground. They often have dropped because they are diseased or have insects in them. Feed to the pigs or burn.

Give the ewes a little grain if the pasture is short. About one-half pound each per day of wheat bran
and oats will put them in good flesh
for winter.

Every pasture should be provided with shade for the pigs in very hot weather. The small shed is always a necessity but this should be placed on very high ground where the air
can have a good sweep.

How is good butter made? The conditions for good butter are numerous.
First, the cow must be all right. She must give rich cream. She must be fed right. Bad feed makes bad butter.

Now is the time when it pays to have supplemental forage crops, and to darken the stables and keep the cows inside during the hottest part of the day. The cold weather during the winter is less difficult to contend with than the hot sun and flies during the summer.

It is best to fatten and sell hogs
young.

Beet leaves have been ensiled successfully.

The cheapest way to feed young pigs is through the sow.

Commence feeding the new corn crop by very slow degrees.

Any person can keep poultry, but every one cannot get poultry to keep him.

As a general thing, fowls that have a good range do not lay thin shelled eggs.

Dirty collars are probably as responsible for sore shoulders as ill-fitting ones.

Plan your farm to reduce the necessity of buying additional feed to the lowest point.

The man who makes a success of poultry is the man who starts with the right aim.

The man who uses system is the one who accomplishes the most work with the least effort.

The hen that makes a good record
for herself in eggs for the whole year is the hen to keep.

The butter fat in milk is very variable, but is its most important and valuable constituent.

The long halter strap in the stall has been the cause of permanent injury to many animals.

The hog is pretty nearly all a bundle of money and he should not be neglected in any manner.

Ever know a mule to step in a

ONE MORE DEVICE TO EXPEDITE THE MAILS

THE NEW TROLLEY CAR MAIL BOX

WASHINGTON, D. C., has tried the experiment of equipping its trolley cars with a mail box that is the invention of a Mr. McAllister. In busy and crowded communities where the saving of a second is a matter of importance, this mail box may fill a niche in the total scheme of bustle. It may be of benefit, too, to the husband who has forgotten to mail his wife's letter until he is on his way home at night. The picture shows Postmaster Merrill of Washington dropping a letter into the perambulating mail box as it is passing him. By the side of the postmaster stands Assistant Postmaster Robinson.

TO RESUME DIGGING

Valley of Siloam Is to Be Explored Again.

Agreement Reached Between Captain
Montague Parker and Turkish Government—Can Work But One Year.

Jerusalem.—Word is received here that Capt. Montague Parker expects to resume the work of excavating for sacred relics in the Valley of Siloam.
Meantime a decision as to whether the captain's contract with the Turkish government can be technically constructed to justify his operations at the Mosque of Omar is awaited with interest.

After much excavating had been done and some relics, it is claimed, recovered, the work was interrupted by charges that the explorers had violated
the holy Mosque of Omar, obtaining access to it for the purposes of excavating by bribing its guardians. Popular feeling was so intense against the foreigners that after they had withdrawn the government ordered the arrest of the guardians of the mosque and pursued an investigation into the circumstances of its alleged desecration.

Now the contract between Parker,
representing an Anglo-American syndicate, and the Turkish government has come to light. Its personal leaves in no doubt as to whether the explorers can be shown to have exceeded their rights, but, on the other hand, it furnishes unmistakable evidence that the captain was sanguine of discovering rare treasures and that he developed the affair liberally. It also develops that the Turkish government was a partner in the transaction and was to share in the spoils.

The contract contains 12 articles. It was signed on October 26, 1908, by Captain Parker and Zia Pasha, then minister of finance, acting for the Turkish government.

By the terms of the agreement the captain is given the privilege of excavating one full year from the date of his commencing operations, after the lapse of which period the work of excavation must be discontinued, unless the government should grant a further lease of one year and renew the privilege of excavation on condition that the captain petition the government for the same, in which case Captain Parker agrees to return the land to the government and forego his claim
on all and sundry such implements,
tools, machinery or material water-ever utilized and made use of in the course of excavation, in favor of the government, without demanding payment or compensation for the same, at whatever time, of its own free accord,
he should bring the work of excavation to a close.

Whatever articles or objects may be unearthed during the course of excavation by Captain Parker must be shared in equal proportions between the government and the members of the expedition, either in kind or by rendering to the government the equivalent of its share in money after due and proper appraisal.

The Turkish government assumes
the privilege of appointing two religious inspectors, of Ottoman nationality, whose duties will be to superintend and observe the progress of excavation, but who, in the performance of their duties, shall have no right to interfere or meddle with the plans of Captain Parker or the means or methods he should employ in carrying out his purposes.

The Turkish government engages to afford Captain Parker such military force as he may deem necessary for facilitating his operations, protecting the lives of those engaged in excavating or enabling him to surmount difficulties and overcome obstacles should

Curiosity of Son of Hostess Brings Explanation of Puzzling Remark
Made by Saint-Saens.

Paris.—The "Ch di Paris" publishes the following tale about M. Saint-Saens, the composer of Samson et Delilah, which is about to be brought out under the personal supervision at the Communal Theater of Opera in Italy.
The celebrated master is above all things fond of the sun, and spends most of his time in the Canary islands;
but whenever he comes to Paris all the ladies in search of "lions" for their evening parties vie with each other to secure his presence in their salons.
One of these lately succeeded in persuading him to accept an invitation to dinner, promising to send to fetch him and also to deposit him at his door when he left, his only stipulation being that he should be allowed to make his adieux at ten o'clock. The son of his hostess was dispatched in good time, and found M. Saint-Saens in a velvet coat seated before his piano. He rose at once, however, and asked for ten minutes to dress, at the end of which he appeared, trying his white cravat. As he was about to go behind him he ejaculated:
"Good gracious! One minute more!
I have forgotten my toothbrush!"

The young man could hardly believe his ears; but to his amazement saw his guest dive into his dressing-room and reappear with a toothbrush which he put away in his breast pocket. On arriving home he told his mother, who,
in some uneasiness, informed her friends, and everybody was in wonder-ment as to what the great composer

was going to do with his toothbrush.
Every eye was fixed on him throughout the dinner, watching him as he ate and drank and used his finger glasses. In the drawing room Saint-Saens talked with the ladies; and played any piece that was asked of
him. All for the sake of the company.
The journey home was without incident, and when they reached his house
M. Saint-Saens simply offered to shake hands and say good night. Curiosity was too strong though for the youth,
who said:

"Excuse me, maitre, but I should so much like to know why you so particularly wanted to take your toothbrush with you."

"Oh! my young friend," replied Saint-Saens, "it is very simple. My finger is very stiff, and I always bring my fingers in turning the key. So I now pass the handle of my toothbrush in the ring of the key and turn it easily.
Voilà!"

It was, in truth, the most natural thing in the world when it was explained; and again wishing his host good evening, the composer gravely stepped inside.

Kills 180 Feet of Snake.
Oxford, Conn.—A new record for killing snakes is claimed by Clifford
B. Hawley, farmer, who killed 180 feet of blacksnakes in seven minutes the other day. Hawley was assisted only by his woodchuck dog, Spot. The snakes' nest was found by the dog.
Hawley attacked the snakes with a box, killing forty-five, one five feet
and one inches long.

Sauerkraut Prolongs Life.
Massillon, O.—The theory of a Cincinnati physician, recently expounded,
that the eating of sauerkraut lengthens life is to be tested at the Massillon hospital.

The cabbage crop at the institution has been exceptionally heavy this year and of the 60,000 heads, 10,000
have been made into sauerkraut.
Dozens of barrels of the German delicacy were packed. They will be opened next winter. The physicians at the institution will make observations regarding the mental and physical condition of the patients after they have been fed on a diet of sauerkraut.

Metal Hat Is Latest.
New York.—The newest wonder in the windows of the Fifth Avenue milliners is the metal hat, which the public is assured will be the proper thing for the modern young woman
this fall. Some of the hats are reminiscent of the helmet, some are flat and broad, but all are different from hats of other years. They are simple and they are not cheap. Florists and feather dealers and fur, gold and silver are employed lavishly

Big Black Cat Brings Luck

Olden Days Calls.

Carpenter of this city, who a few days ago announced their marriage, declare they were united by means of a stray black cat. There is a general belief in Berks county that if a homeless cat comes to a home and refuses to leave, that its presence will bring fortune, sooner or later.

Last Thursday, October 12th, was the anniversary of the day on which Christopher Columbus discovered America, and while he didn't know that it was America that he had discovered, still he proved to the world that there was something in the shape of land over on this side of the water and blazed the trail, so to speak, for the more timid ones who before that time had confined their discoveries to that portion of the world not out of sight of the old world. While some writers and would-be historians have tried to belittle the achievements of Columbus by declaring that he was not the discoverer of the new world, they have gained but little by their efforts. He must have been quite a fellow, anyway, and the only thing we have against him is that he was not an American. At the time Columbus was in his prime, navigation had not been reduced to the fine art it is today. While the mariner's compass was in existence at that time, it was rather a crude affair compared with the instruments that are in use today, and for a man to leave his home and mother-in-law, and start out in a westerly direction when ninety-nine out of a hundred believed that the earth was flat, and that after reaching a certain part, the thing ended and would let him drop off into space, he must have been a man with the courage of his convictions, and then some. When Christopher started out he had no trouble in getting plenty of sailors to accompany him on the trip, it being evident that they looked upon the job as an easy one, a sort of a summer vacation, which would end in a few weeks. However, his band of pirates soon found out their mistake and made up their minds to turn back, but Christopher would not have it that way. He used to call the roll in the morning with a whoopee note in one hand and a blunderbuss charged with a handful of scorpions in the other. "This was to impress the boys with the fact that there would be something going in the shape of a rough house if they tried any monkey business with the old man." Christopher wasn't cutting much ice with the powers when he left home, but when he got back wearing a year's growth of whiskers and with a description of the country he had visited on the other side of the globe, he was all the mustered and there was nothing too good for him. It's only a little over four hundred years since Columbus first sighted the shores of America, not a long time when compared with eternity, and yet there have been some changes since his day. Too bad the old boy cannot take a trip back here occasionally and see how things are getting on.

First Social Center Conference.
Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—The first national conference over held for the purpose of furthering the social center movement will be called at the University of Wisconsin from October 25 to 27, under the auspices of the extension division of the university and the Social Center Association of America. Gov. Woodruff, Wilson of New Jersey will deliver the opening address, his subject being "The Need of Citizenship Organization."

The social center movement in rural communities and the school houses as a social center will be the topics for discussion on Oct. 27. Addresses will be delivered by Herbert Quick, editor of Farm and Fireside; E. V. Collins, editor of the North-western Agriculturist; Dana H. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin; Charles E. McLoughlin, librarian, Milwaukee; Dr. John R. Commons of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission; Dr. G. E. Young, health commissioner of Ohio; Clarence A. Perry of the Russell Sage Foundation; L. V. Richards, editor of Boston Common; and the Hon. Moses E. Clapp, U. S. senator from Minnesota and an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin.

A banquet on Saturday evening, Oct. 28, at which toasts will be responded to by William Allen White, Miss Zona Gale, Col. S. S. McClure of McClure's Magazine, Dr. Josiah Strong, Frank P. Walsh, Mayor David of Prosser, Wis., and Mrs. David Kirk, the first woman school superintendent in America, will conclude the conference.

At the conference special attention will be called to the necessity for places of meeting for citizens in every community where topics of public interest can be discussed. Methods of organizing neighborhood clubs for the development of public spirit through the open presentation and free discussion of all public questions will also be considered. The idea of citizenship organization is the basis of the whole social center movement and will therefore be given chief place in the discussions at the conference. The leaders of the movement hope that by the organization of a machine of citizenship, including men of all parties who come together to discuss and understand the problems of democracy and to express the citizens' right to self government, an effective method to control the bi-partisan machine in city, state and national government will be secured.

What We Do Not Know About Hay.
One of the plain contradictions between fact and fancy, between scientific truth and common error, between market price and true feeding value, and which no man has been able to explain, is that of timothy hay. It is selling in the Port Atkinson local market for $30 a ton, while it actually contains less than half the protein of clover and only about one-fourth that of alfalfa. This shows the power of custom and habit over reason and sound sense.

The one thing the farmer is sure to produce and which he knows the least about, either scientifically or practically either as to how best to grow it, cure it, or feed it, is hay. It is amazing that there should be such a widespread lack of definite judgment on this, one of the most important questions in farming. If there is to be any change for the better, in point of judgment it seems that it must take a full life time to make it.

On page 397 of Hoards Dairyman, it is stated that timothy hay is selling in the New Orleans market for $36.50 to $38 per ton, yet feeders think they are paying a good price, if they give $15 a ton for lespedeza or Japan clover hay. Now lespedeza contains double the nutriment that timothy does. If timothy is worth $30 a ton in our local market, by a true comparison of feeding value, alfalfa ought to be worth $70 a ton. That fact shows what we really know about hay.

One year we wintered our farm horses in tip-top condition on twelve pounds of alfalfa hay and nine ears of corn each daily. If we had used timothy, they would have half starved.—Hoards Dairyman.

NEKOOSA
(From the Times)
Many Nekosia people realized for the first time the extent of the high water caused by recent rains, when the Nekosia-Idwards Paper Co. park was viewed Monday morning. The overflow water from the Wisconsin river had increased until at ten o'clock the park, from the river bank, parallel with a point at least seventy-five yards west of Frank Boles' residence, was covered with water. Some water here, thank you.

Mrs. H. Vos invited the teachers, School Board and the neighbors to a seven o'clock dinner, Wednesday evening of last week, in honor of Mr. Vos' birthday. Last Thursday at the Catholic parsonage at 5:30 a. m., occurred the marriage of Autinetta Akey, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akey, and Harold E. Will, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Will of Muscatine, Iowa. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Bertina, while Grover Akey, cousin of the bride acted as best man. The bride was attired in a beautiful traveling suit, wearing a white French felt hat with a touch of lavender. The groom wore a rich dark blue suit. The bride is a charming young lady and has spent the greater part of her life in this vicinity. She is well and favorably known and by her pleasant disposition has won a host of friends. For the past five years she has made her home with her uncle, E. J. Akey, and family of Mission, Texas, formerly of East Claire, where she became acquainted with Mr. Will. The groom is a prosperous young man of sterling qualities, and is employed as book-keeper by the John A. Kaiser Lumber Co. of East Claire. The young couple left on the early morning train for Muscatine, Iowa, where they will visit relatives for a couple of weeks. While enroute they stopped off at Chicago, the guests of the Dr. S. Hulet family. The beautiful day of sunshine, as contrasted with our many previous rainy days, tended to add much to the bliss of the happy pair.

William DeMars has moved his family to your city.

Mrs. Jim Gokey is reported to be seriously ill. We hope she may soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Rayome of Randolph spent Sunday in this burg with relatives.

The young folks of this burg enjoyed themselves immensely at a party at the Schenk home Friday night, given in honor of Miss Sadie Baker.

John Beck, who is employed at Cornell, spent a couple days here with his wife and children.

The Chris Olson family are the new owners of a new piano.

Our hotel is being improved considerably. The house is being painted and shingled and will soon be in first class condition.

PITTSVILLE
(From the Record.)
The dance of the Pottawatomie Indians began Saturday last. This dance lasts from three days to a week and is indulged in by the tribe at Fowler's Bluff and visiting Indians from all over the United States, some of them coming from Nebraska. While the Indians do not care to have onlookers witnessing their antics at these religious dances, they will not turn people away and even have notified several in the city here of the time the dance is to take place. There is one thing, however, which they make especially known, and that is that they will not countenance the taking of pictures of the dance by enthusiastic kodak people. It is likely they have been bothered by this pest, as this year in the issuing of their invitations they have made special mention that no pictures will be allowed to be taken.

F. S. Woodworth has made purchase of the Mason property (the old Schlegel home) in this city. Mrs. Mason was here last week and made transfer of the papers. It has been some ten years since she has been in the city. The Masons formerly were in the hotel business here and at one time Mr. Mason was agent at the St. Paul depot.

It is understood that the barn on this property has been sold to Harry Ames and the property (house and lot) has been resold to O. E. McKee.

May Have High Water Again.
The indications are at the present time that we will have high water again at this point, altho the rise cannot be foretold to any degree of certainty, depending on the amount of moisture that falls north of here in the near future. The water at this point registers 8 feet, a considerable rise over yesterday and the report from the north is that it is high there.

MOVE ON! MOVE ON!!

We were forced to move our surplus stock from the basement on account of high water and since then we have been doing police duty in every dept. Great stocks of Splendid Fall Goods Given the "Move On," "Move On" Sign.

We must be custodians of our own stocks—we must compel surplus stocks, oddments and endments to "Move On" in this store—stagnation is the death of trade.

The Automatic Sealing Burial Vault

MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN STONE OR STEEL—AS ENDURING AS THE AGES

Made of reinforced concrete, with a mineral glaze that makes it as impervious to moisture as glass. The Automatic seal cannot fail, and water can never enter under any conditions. The only vault that will protect casket perfectly forever.

Don't use the perishable wooden box which soon crushes under pressure, or jointed vaults, which cannot be made tight, and soon fill with the earth.

ASK YOUR UNDERTAKER about the Automatic Sealing Burial Vault, and let him demonstrate the automatic seal with model which he has. You'll be pleased with perfection of this vault, and surprised at its low cost. Should be used for every burial.

Stevens Point Journal:—Mrs. Mary Szymanski, who lives in the town of Carson, was arrested on Wednesday by Undersheriff Guyant and brought to this city. The warrant was issued upon complaint of Gustav Neumann, who alleged that on Oct. 11 the defendant committed an assault upon his wife, Mrs. Ida Neumann, with intent to do great bodily harm. It seems that Mr. Neumann is working some of the defendant's land on shares and a dispute arose over the division of the potato crop and that when Neumann and his wife were working in the field the defendant struck the latter on her back with the head of an axe, so it is alleged. When arraigned in county court the defendant pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned to Oct. 20. Her bail was fixed at $200, in default of which she was taken to jail.

"The Three Twins," which comes to Daly's Theatre Monday, Oct. 23, created a sensation in New York with its fascinating music and good wholesome comedy and is positively the handiest comedienne company ever sent on tour.

Considerable damage was done to the pavilion near Mouscow Creek owned by the street car company by the high water of last week. The water at its highest mark covered the floor about a foot, and since it subsided the floor is reported to have bulged up and is in bad shape, so that it will have to be replaced. This floor was one of the best dancing surfaces in this locality, great care having been taken to keep it in first class condition at all times.

Many of the duck hunters of this vicinity have been making trips to the wilds of Seneca and Oronoco during the past week, looking for ducks. Had every shot that has been fired out in that locality brought down a duck there would have been such a rag in the meat business that at least half of the meat markets in the city would have been compelled to go out of business. However, the butchers are still flourishing. Nevertheless, this is great weather for ducks and a number of the boys have succeeded in bagging one or more.

Blindlander New North:—Late Thursday afternoon Chas. Reque, a farmer who resided with his family at one of Brown Brothers' old logging camps in the town of Segar Camp, was shot while at work in his potato patch, receiving a wound which resulted in his death at St. Mary's hospital in the city at twelve o'clock Saturday night. Tuesday afternoon John Rhoda, who is also a farmer and a respected citizen in the same town, was arrested by Under Sheriff Amundson after confessing that he was responsible for Reque's death. Rhoda told the officer that he fired the fatal shot while under the impression that Reque was a bear. Reque and a fellow settler named Estmuth were engaged in digging potatoes on an old logging road right of way when the accident occurred. It was about dusk. A rifle shot was heard in the nearby woods and Reque fell to the ground uttering a cry of agony. Rushing to his side Estmuth found that the man had been wounded and carried him to his cabin not far away.

Tony Edwards visited with friends in Stevens Point on Sunday.

Worthington of Beloit is spending a week in the city visiting among his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tennant left last week for San Jose, Cal., where they expect to spend the winter with their daughter.

Don't miss the big sale now in progress in Johnson & Hill Co's.

Leo Payne had the misfortune to dislocate his left shoulder on Monday evening in a friendly scuffle. The injury is a painful one and will lay him up for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farrisli spent several days the past week at Mr. Farrisli's farm near Snary. Mr. Farrisli reported on Monday that the water in Mill Creek, which runs thru his place, was still pretty high, and rising when he left.

The high water of last week washed out a stretch of the new macadam road constructed at Stevens Point during the past summer. The road is on the west side of the river and is that part leading to Rudolph about 225 feet of the highway being ruined. Steps were taken at once to repair the damage.

The latest report right from Washington is to the effect that Uncle Sam is to get out a new postal card. The new cards will be cream color, printed in red. The report is to the effect that the government wants to have a really artistic postal card for use, the last one not having come up to the standard that was hoped for. It is an old saying that "you cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," and possibly it may be equally difficult to make a work of art out of a penny postal card.

Does This Hit You?

Just a few blocks away the merchant who handles velvets and trappings was sitting at breakfast with his family. The conversation drifted around to the new approach of school.

"And that reminds me," said the lady who sat at the head of the table, "I must be going to the city not later than next week. I must get goods for the children's school clothes and see about a fall suit myself, and while there perhaps I had better see about a new rug for the parlor and lace curtains for the front window."

An hour later a leading grocer stepped into the bank to buy a draft which he was going to send to a catalogue house for a swell bedroom suite.

"How's business?" asked the banker. "Oh, not so very good," replied the grocer. "Things are dull just now."

Before the banker ceased writing the check a dapper young man with a grip stepped up and asked how everybody was. The banker seemed glad to see him. He was the representative of a big printing house in another state. He and the banker chatted pleasantly for a few minutes after which the young man inquired casually of his friend behind the window if he wanted anything.

"Well, yes," replied the other, "I believe I do. Print me 500 drafts, 500 checks and a couple thousand letter heads."

The young man thanked him and hurried out.

That night the local business men held a meeting in the town hall to discuss the growth of the mail order evil. All of the gentlemen mentioned in the narrative delivered short talks. They all agreed that the farmers were guilty of treason to their home merchants when they persisted in buying their goods from mail order houses, and the meeting closed atopax strong resolutions against the habit of trading away from home.

Moral: Education should begin at home. Of course this doesn't mean you but this article should be read by every merchant in the United States.—Alan Advertiser.

Nobody Spared.

Kidney Troubles Attack Grand Rapids Men and Women, Old and Young.

—Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years.

Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman, or child is to cure the cause—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills reach the cause.

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Grand Rapids testimony proves it.

Mrs. Anna Keyes, 354 Plover St., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I am pleased to publicly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills, for they live up to all the claims made for them. My back ached intensely and I often had pain across my loins. I was subject to dizzy and nervous spells and it was plain to be seen that my kidneys were at fault. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial and they soon brought relief. I also gave this remedy to one of my children who was annoyed by a kidney weakness and entire relief was received. Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon to bring prompt and lasting benefit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlhenn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Buying Power of $1.75.

A little money sometimes buys a good deal. For instance, take the subscription price of The Youth's Companion for a year—$1.75. If all the good reading in the 52 weekly issues of the paper were published in book form, according to its kind, it would make about thirty volumes of fiction, science, essays by famous writers, business management and economics, sports and pastimes for boys, natural history, anecdotes, humor, etc. The serial stories alone would fill several volumes. Among these is Ralph Payne's great story of the Boxer Rebellion in China, "The Cross and the Dragon." Another is by J. W. Schacht, who was adopted by the Blackfoot when a boy. It is called "The Quest for the Fish Dog Skin." Another is a glorious girl-story by G. A. Stephens, called "Julla Sylvestor." It is the story of a "Moor" girl in the pioneer days of Oregon and Washington—and that is only part of the serials.

It will cost you nothing to send for the beautiful Announcement of The Companion for 1912, and we will send with it sample copies of the paper.

Do not forget that the new subscriber for 1912 receives a gift of The Companion's Calendar for 1912, illustrated in ten colors and gold, and all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1911 free from the time the subscription is received.

Only $1.75 now, but on January 1, 1912, the price will be advanced to $2.50.

The Youth's Companion, 114 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

A Long Time Ago

grandmother baked a blueberry pie, and placed it on the window-sill of the pantry to cool.

Afternoon, along came a tramp. The tramp disappeared. So did the pie.

You see, grandmother didn't put the pie in a safe place.

But grandmother learned a lesson—she didn't do it again.

Stevens Point Journal.—Mrs. Mary Szymanski, who lives in the town of Carvon, was arrested on Wednesday by Under Sheriff Guyant and brought to this city. The warrant was issued upon complaint of Gustav Neumann, who alleged that on Oct. 11 the defendant committed an assault upon his wife, Mrs. Ida Neumann, with intent to do great bodily harm. It seems that Mr. Neumann is working some of the defendant's land on shares and a dispute arose over the division of the potato crop and that when Neumann and his wife were working in the field the defendant struck the latter on her back with the head of an axe, so it is alleged. When arraigned in county court the defendant pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned to Oct. 20. Her bail was fixed at $200, in default of which she was taken to jail.

Many of the duck hunters of this vicinity have been making trips to the wilds of Seneca and Orammoo during the past week, looking for ducks. Had every shot that has been fired out in that locality brought down a duck there would have been such a sag in the meat business that at least half of the meat markets in the city would have been compelled to go out of business. However, the ducks are still flourishing. Nevertheless, this is a great winter for ducks and a number of the boys have succeeded in bagging one or more.

Rhineland New North.—Late Thursday afternoon Chas. Reque, a farmer who resided with his family at one of Brown Brothers' old logging camps in the town of Sugar Camp, was shot while at work in his potato patch receiving a wound which resulted in his death at St. Mary's hospital in the city at twelve o'clock Saturday night. Tuesday afternoon John Rhoda, who is also a farmer and a respected citizen in the same town, was arrested by Under Sheriff Amundson after confessing that he was responsible for Reque's death. Rhoda told the officer that he fired the fatal shot while under the impression that Reque was a bear. Reque and a fellow settler named Helmut were engaged in digging potatoes on an old logging road right of way when the accident occurred. It was about dusk. A rifle shot was heard in the nearby woods and Reque fell to the ground uttering a cry of agony. Rushing to his side Helmut found that the man had been wounded and carried him to his cabin not far away.

The latest report right from Washington is to the effect that Uncle Sam is to get out a new postal card. The new card will be cream colored, printed in red. The report is to the effect that the government wants to have a really artistic postal card for use, the last one not having come up to the standard that was hoped for it. It is an old saying that "you cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," and possibly it may be equally difficult to make a work of art out of a penny postal card.

Does This Hit You?

Just a few blocks away the merchant who handles vehicles and implements was sitting at breakfast with his family. The conversation drifted around to the near approach of school. "And that reminds me," said the lady who sat at the head of the table, "I must be going to the city not later than next week. I must get goods for the children's school clothes and see about a fall suit myself, and while there perhaps I had better see about a new rug for the parlor and lace curtains for the front window."

An hour later a leading grocer stepped into the bank to buy a draft which he was going to send to a catalogue house for a swell bedroom suite.

"How's business?" asked the banker. "Oh, not so very good," replied the grocer. "Things are dull just now."

Before the banker ceased writing the check a dapper young man with a grip stepped up and asked how everything was. The banker seemed glad to see him. He was the representative of a big printing house in another state. He and the banker chatted pleasantly for a few minutes after which the young man inquired casually of his friend behind the window if he wanted anything.

"Well, yes," replied the other, "I believe I do. Print us 500 drafts, 500 checks and a couple thousand letter heads." The young man thanked him and hurried out.

That night the local business men held a meeting in the town hall to discuss the growth of the mail order evil. All of the gentlemen mentioned in the narrative delivered short talks. They all agreed that the farmers were guilty of treason to their home merchants when they persisted in buying their goods from mail order houses, and the meeting closed adopting strong resolutions against the habit of trading away from home.

Moral: Education should begin at home. Of course this doesn't mean you but this article should be read by every merchant in the United States.—Alta Adviser.

Kidney Troubles Attack Grand Rapids Men and Women, Old and Young.

—Kidney is the most common and old come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years.

Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman, or child is to cure the cause—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills reach the cause.

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Grand Rapids testimony proves it.

Mrs. Anna Keyes, 954 Plover St., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I am pleased to publicly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills for they live up to all the claims made for them. My back ached intensely and I often had pains across my loins. I was subject to dizzy and nervous spells and it was plain to be seen that my kidneys were at fault. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial and they soon brought relief. I also gave this remedy to one of my children who was annoyed by a kidney weakness and entire relief was received. Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon to bring prompt and lasting benefit."

The Buying Power of $1.75.

A little money sometimes buys a good deal. For instance, take the subscription price of The Youth's Companion for a year—$1.75. If all the good reading in the 32 weekly issues of the paper were published in book form, according to its kind, it would make about thirty volumes of fiction, science, essays by famous writers, household management and economics, sports and pastimes for boys, natural history, anecdotes, humor, etc. The serial stories alone would fill several volumes. Among these is Ralph Payne's great story of the Boxer Rebellion in China, "The Cross and the Dragon." Another is by J. W. Schmitz, who was adopted by the Blackfoot when a boy. It is called "The Quest for the Fish-Dog Skin." Another is a glorious girl's story by C. A. Stephens, called "Julia Sylvester." It is the story of a "Merced" girl in the pioneer days of Oregon and Washington—and that is only part of the serials.

It will cost you nothing to send for the beautiful Announcement of The Companion for 1912, and we will send with it sample copies of the paper.

Do not forget that the new subscriber for 1912 receives a gift of The Companion's Calendar for 1912, lithographed in ten colors and gold, and all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1911 free from the time the subscription is received.

Only $1.75 now, but on January 1, 1912, the price will be advanced to $2.00.

The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

MOVE ON! MOVE ON!!

We were forced to move our surplus stock from the basement on account of high water and since then we have been doing police duty in every dept. Great stocks of Splendid Fall Goods Given the "Move On," "Move On" Sign.

We must be custodians of our own stocks—we must compel surplus stocks, oddments and endments to "Move On" in this store—stagnation is the death of trade.

No inert, torpid, lazy stocks here. When merchandise is inactive, when sales don't satisfy us—when we want action—WE CUT PRICES and we cut with a vim and vigor.

We go after them with the big stick and prices are radically and effectively lowered. What is the natural result? What happens to seasonable, desirable, fashionable goods when they are priced far below regular? They "MOVE ON" and they move at a pretty lively gait.

These are the facts of the story we have to tell today but the figures are the interesting part of it.

Remember—it's time for all our grand stocks of stylish and desirable Fall garments, fabrics, etc., to go - the Price Reducer will push THEM from behind. They must "Move On". Remember all sorts of Fall goods have received "Move On" orders and will leave the store in triple quick time.

May Have High Water Again.

The indications are at the present time that we will have high water again at this point, although the rise cannot be forecasted to any degree of certainty, depending on the amount of moisture that falls north of here in the near future. The water at this point registers 3 feet, a considerable rise over yesterday and the report from the north is that it is high there.

MOVE ON! MOVE ON!!

We were forced to move our surplus stock from the basement on account of high water and since then we have been doing police duty in every dept. Great stocks of Splendid Fall Goods Given the "Move On," "Move On" Sign.

We must be custodians of our own stocks—we must compel surplus stocks, oddments and endments to "Move On" in this store—stagnation is the death of trade.

No inert, torpid, lazy stocks here. When merchandise is inactive, when sales don't satisfy us—when we want action—WE CUT PRICES and we cut with a vim and vigor.

We go after them with the big stick and prices are radically and effectively lowered. What is the natural result? What happens to seasonable, desirable, fashionable goods when they are priced far below regular? They "MOVE ON" and they move at a pretty lively gait.

These are the facts of the story we have to tell today but the figures are the interesting part of it.

Remember—it's time for all our grand stocks of stylish and desirable Fall garments, fabrics, etc., to go—the Price Reducer will push THEM from behind. They must "Move On"—Remember all sorts of Fall goods have received "Move On" orders and will leave the store in triple quick time.

Movement Begins Monday, Oct. 23rd—Ends Saturday, Oct. 28th
